Pastor Reflection

"The 272 families who were enslaved and sold to build the American Catholic Church." by Rachel L. Swarns a practicing Black Catholic, Pulitzer-Prize - winning author gives Catholic Americans a tool for Truth and Reconciliation. November is Black Catholic History Month and there may be no better tool to celebrate Catholic American History, then this book by Rachel L. Swarns. The founding, sustaining, and greatness of Georgetown University, its influence and place in U.S. history all made possible by the enslavement and selling of more than 272 enslaved women, men, and children.

The Society of Jesus -the Jesuits of Maryland, kept fairly good accounting records. Those records and the testimonies of now living descendants of the 272, give a vivid, painful and hopeful "gospel" of how Catholicism took root and spread in the early United States. The story of the Jesuits in the Maryland colony and the enslaved Africans whom they owned, begins before there was a United States in the 1670's. Catholics were not welcomed in most of the thirteen colonies. The colony of Maryland-Mary's Land- became the property of a Catholic Englishman established as a place where England's Catholics could practice their faith.

Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore is his name. The Jesuits, a relatively new order of religious men, were sent to Maryland by Lord Baltimore to minister to the Catholics there, and to evangelize in the lands of America. "Lord Baltimore would allocate more than twenty thousand acres of the colony's land to the early Jesuits. "To work the land and to provide for the upkeep of the American Jesuit order, owning enslaved people seemed to be a sound business decision. "In 1664, Maryland passed its own law, declaring that 'all Negroes or other [slaves] to be hereafter imported' would henceforth be considered slaves for life, as would their children."

As Catholics, we know that to experience reconciliation in the sacraments, we are invited to admit and name our faults, ask for forgiveness and intend to do penance and make amends.

In this reflection I hope that we as Catholic Americans can enter into a process of reconciliation. Georgetown University and other Jesuit Universities have chosen to enter into such a process with the descendants of the 272.

Living Stewardship

"Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you have been faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities" –

MATTHEW 25:21

God calls us to nurture and develop the gifts He has given us and then generously through stewardship, return a portion with increase. He doesn't want us to waste or hoard the gifts He has given us. He expects us to grow our gifts, to use them wisely, and to be generous with them. Unfortunately, many of us are not generous in proportion to all that God has given us. God asks us to be generous with all our gifts, especially the one that means the most to you.

Come Sit with Jesus and join us for

Our 4th Graders gave their saint presentations in church last week and they were AWESOME! Our Prayer Service for Veterans Day was a beautiful time of giving thanks to our community members who have served in the Armed Forces. We also celebrated World Kindness Day on November 13 by "Spreading Kindness like Confetti" in our Peaceful Playground.

Our 5th Annual Gala and Honoree Event was held on Friday, November 17 at the Carriage House. It was a wonderful evening of celebrating our school and our honorees. Many thanks are extended to our Gala Committee, our honorees, our volunteers, and all who attended the evening.

We will be having our Thanksgiving liturgy on Tuesday, November 21 at 9:00 AM. Father Ed Maher from St. Thomas the Apostle will be our celebrant, and 3A is planning the liturgy. All are welcome!

Believe it or not, we are already beginning to plan registration for the 2024-2025 school year. If you or someone you know is interested in providing your/their children with the gift of a Catholic education at ARCS, please contact our Advancement Director, Alicia Downey, at adowney@arcsalloway.org. You will not be disappointed!

16 Y 17 DE DICIEMBRE

El Papa Juan Pablo II comenzó la tradición del Domingo Bambinelli durante su papado para recordar a las familias el alegre acontecimiento de la llegada del Niño Jesús al pesebre. Se anima a todos los feligreses, especialmente a los niños, a traer el Bambinelli (el niño Jesús) de sus juegos de la Natividad a cualquiera de nuestras Misas en el tercer fin de semana de Adviento para una bendición especial de nuestros sacerdotes.

Reflexión del Pastor

"Las 272 familias que fueron esclavizadas y vendidas para construir la Iglesia Católica Americana". por Rachel L. Swarns una católica negra practicante, autora ganadora del Premio Pulitzer Los estadounidenses son una herramienta para la verdad y la reconciliación. Noviembre es el Mes de la Historia Católica Negra y puede que no haya mejor herramienta para celebrar la Historia Católica Estadounidense que este libro de Rachel L. Swarns. La fundación, el sostenimiento y la grandeza de la Universidad de Georgetown, su influencia y su lugar en la historia de los Estados Unidos, todo ello fue posible gracias a la esclavitud y la venta de más de 272 mujeres, hombres y niños esclavizados.

La Compañía de Jesús, los jesuitas de Maryland, llevaban registros contables bastante buenos. Esos registros y los testimonios de los descendientes que ahora viven de los 272, dan una vívida, dolorosa y "evangelio" esperanzador de cómo el catolicismo echó raíces y se extendió en los primeros Estados Unidos. La historia de los jesuitas en la colonia de Maryland y los africanos esclavizados que poseían, comienza antes de que existieran los Estados Unidos en la década de 1670. Los católicos no eran bienvenidos en la mayoría de las trece colonias. La colonia de Maryland, Mary's Land, se convirtió en propiedad de un inglés católico establecido como un lugar donde los católicos de Inglaterra podían practicar su fe.

Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore es su nombre. Los jesuitas, una orden relativamente nueva de hombres religiosos, fueron enviados a Maryland por Lord Baltimore para ministrar a los católicos allí y evangelizar en las tierras de América. "Lord Baltimore asignaría más de veinte mil acres de la tierra de la colonia a los primeros jesuitas. " Trabajar la tierra y proveer para el mantenimiento de la orden jesuita americana, poseer personas esclavizadas parecía ser una buena decisión comercial. "En 1664, Maryland aprobó su propia ley, declarando que 'todos los negros u otros [esclavos] que se importen en lo sucesivo' serían considerados esclavos de por vida, al igual que sus hijos". Como católicos, sabemos que para experimentar la reconciliación en los sacramentos, estamos invitados a admitir y nombrar nuestras faltas, pide perdón y ten la intención de hacer penitencia y hacer las paces.

En esta reflexión, espero que nosotros, como católicos americanos, podamos entrar en un proceso de reconciliación. La Universidad de Georgetown y otras universidades jesuitas han optado por entrar en un proceso de este tipo con los descendientes de los 272.
